Introduction

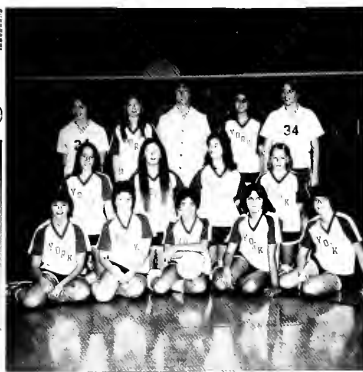

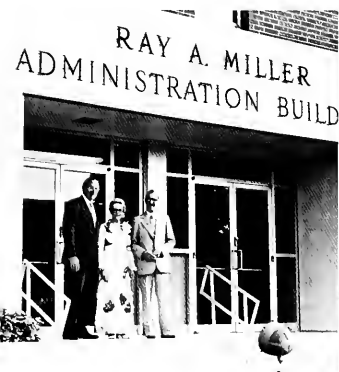

"Observe always that everything is the result of change." Growth reflects change, and without change there is stagnation. Throughout the past year York College of Pennsylvania has not allowed itself to become stagnant, but has experienced varying degrees of change. Some changes, most notably a new president, Dr. Robert V. Iosue, have received almost limitless recognition. Other changes have gone almost unnoticed. We have had name changes: the Ray A. Miller Administration Building, the Cora Miller Art Gallery, and Beard Hall. We have a new woman's volleyball team; a new student publication, the SPECTRUM; a Master's degree program in Business Administration; and we have purchased Country Club Manor Apartments. The students, faculty, and administration have watched these changes and have been affected by them. The staff of this yearbook has recorded these transitions so that we will all be better able to remember the changes that have opened many new horizons.

A STUDENT GUIDE TO YCP

A Administration Building

The Ray A. Miller Administration Building houses administrative offices, a computer center, an art gallery, and A-4 the classroom that no one can ever find. Each Spring and Fall, the building becomes a Mecca for students who make their annual pilgrimage to the scheduling office in order to choose their upcoming classes. It would be erroneous to assume that such an important building even exists, without also considering its staff of hardworking individuals. These people are not unwilling to solve students problems, those ranging from financial aid to new parking stickers. It is correct to say that this staff constitutes the very backbone of YCP.

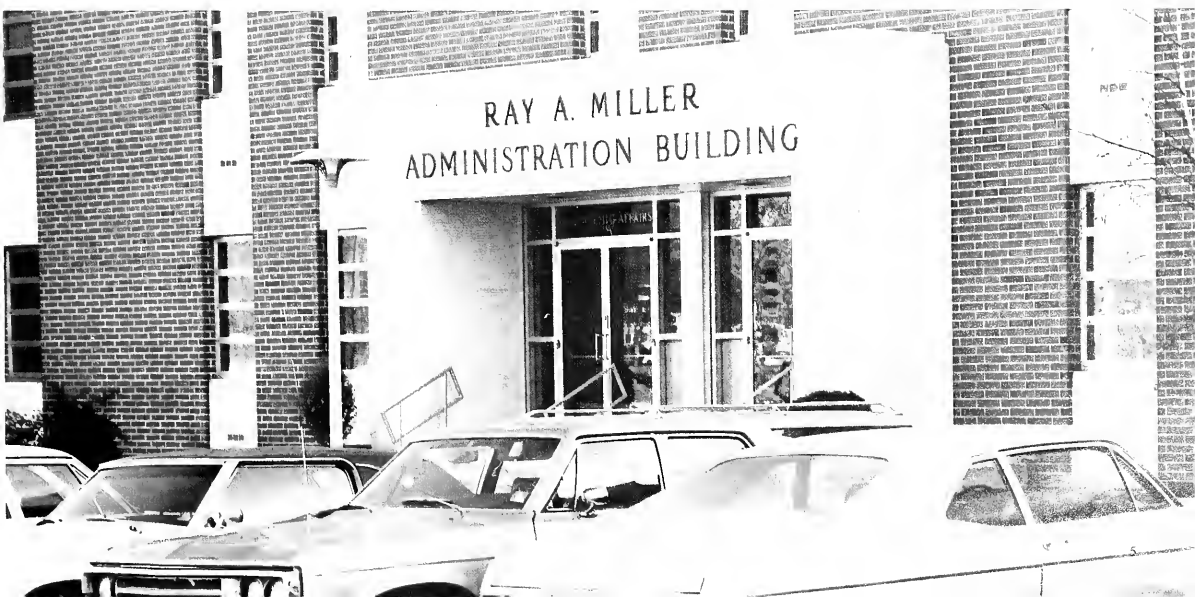

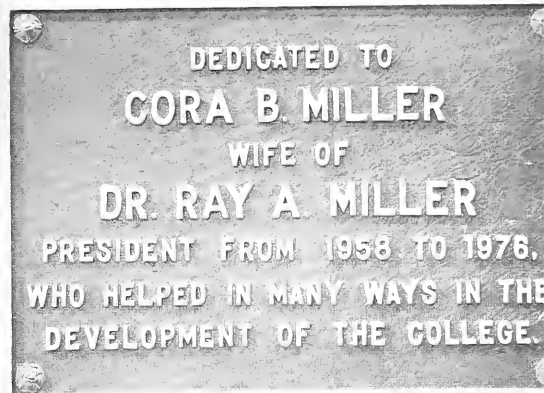

Art

"I don't know what it is, but I like it." The average YCP student's knowledge of fine art barely extends beyond the graphs in his math book. For those students who wish to expand their sterile environment of lines, vectors, and diagrams, York College provides the Cora Miller Art Gallery. Recently renamed in honor of ex-President Ray A. Miller's wife, the gallery presents exhibits done by local artists and is open to the public.

Autumn

The advent of Autumn upon the campus brings with it new and returning students anxious to resume their studies and college activities. The semester begins with registration, buying books, meeting old and new friends, and settling into the daily routine. With the falling of the last leaves from the campus trees, finals' week arrives along with the much needed semester break.

B

Beer

Even though drinking is condemned by the college it is still a popular pastime of students at YCP. For some it is the best way to escape the pressures of grades and quizzes but for others, drinking means simply a good time on a Friday night.

Bikes

Riding a bike makes hot days hotter and cool days freezing. People constantly marvel at how athletic your legs look, while dogs view these muscles as their prime point of attack. Finding a place to park your bike is easier than finding a place to park a car. Why is it, though, that when riding a bike every road seems to slant up hill?

Blood Drive

At least once every semester the students, faculty, and staff of YCP are asked to roll up their sleeves, endure a little pain, and give blood to the American Red Cross. This event which is sponsored by TKE, provides the donors and their families with coverage when and if blood is needed. Members of the TKE frat, as well as members of other frats and sororities, should be congratulated for sponsoring such worthwhile activities.

Bookstore

The bookstore is a good place to buy posters and pencils. Freshmen first become acquainted with the bookstore through the purchase of $40.00 worth of books that they will seldom use. The bookstore is not out to make a profit as such, since they are a subsidiary of the college, but that doesn't make a twenty dollar book any cheaper or prices more reasonable. Besides books, the store deals in fine quality sweatshirts, jackets, and gym suits.

C

Campus Security

York College Campus Security is a staff of 12 people — 5 sergeants and 7 patrolmen under Lt. Clatterbuck. Their job is to patrol the campus, correct parking problems and handle service calls to the dorms. Most security officers are Police Science majors. Their job of protecting the students provides practical experience related to their future vocations.

Cheerleaders

Being a cheerleader is a matter of enunciating clearly while screaming at the top of your lungs. It means snappy drills, hours of practice, and tired muscles; cold days, rainy nights, and tremendous self-discipline. Cheering a losing team is rough because you can't switch sides, but the most disconcerting part is having a thousand people know your name.

Commuters

They come by car, by taxi, by motorcycle, and by bicycle to reach their destination — York College. Mid-morning arrivals find parking spots a rarity and end up hiking to classes. In the end, maybe it would be better if they left the car at home and walked in the first place?!

Concerts

The concert begins with a wave of sound that throws you against your seat. Colored lights slide into kaleidoscopic patterns; strobes flash, as the crowd becomes absorbed in the steady beat of Buddy Rich, who is definitely a welcome change from the humdrum beat of the Pub's juke box. For the student's cultural enrichment, the college provides a concert series featuring various artists including the York Symphony Orchestra, the Trinidad Tripoli Steel Band, The Washington Consort, and also a Christmas Concert presented by York College students.

D Dorm Life

Adjustment to dorm life may be difficult for some. Students must, for the first time in their lives, share a room with another human being (in some cases). It turns out that the room is half the size of their room at home. They also must adjust to other residents on their floor. Some of them don't agree that sleep is a human necessity. Loud music and blaring t.v.'s provide ample distractions to someone trying to rest. Dorm life does have its good points. It gives rise to a highly competitive form of society through water battles and soft ball games. Perhaps its best attraction though, (if you're a guy) is the girl sunbathers in front of Beard and Penn.

Drama

There are no professional actors, but there are many talented students. As the house lights dim and the curtain opens, the audience sees the finished product of many long hours of work. In front of the stage, the crowd sees only momentary stumbles of a performer's lapse, and the plays, always excellent, flash by. Rarely, unless a student is a drama critic, does a slip attract any notice. Then, suddenly, it's over and everyone's tired. The sets are struck, the makeup comes off for the last time, and the house lights dim again . . . this time for the cast party.

E Exams

Everyone understands the pressure equated with an exam. Students cram while eating, while walking to class and even while the prof. is handing out the test. It is the time for big lies: the lie to yourself that you know it all for the math test, the lies to the prof. on the English test. When it's all over, very few wonder whether it was all worth it. Why are tests all scheduled on the same day anyways?

F

FM Radio

The college radio station, WVYC FM-88, is located on the third floor of the Life Sciences Building. Recently starting its second semester on the air, the station provides training for persons interested in radio broadcasting while at the same time serving the students and community. WVYC promotes Senate activities as well as activities of other college organizations. The station features classical, jazz, and popular music and includes educational programming with total broadcasting time equalling approximately 65 hours a week.

Frat

Yes, you too can dress like Julius Caesar, carry a brick, and be a lifeguard at the fountain — all in the same day! Today's frat wants you! A fraternity will teach you humility, pride, and a lot of patience. Comradeship is very big in fraternities, and why not? When you live with thirty other guys, all of whom have seen you day in and day out, you either love 'em or hate 'em — or a little of both.

G

Green

Green is perhaps the most prominent color on campus. A green rock, a green Horizon . . . Green serves as one half of the school color scheme. Uniforms worn by cheerleaders, basketball players, the volleyball team, and so on, are green. Green is in — wear your beanie with pride!

Greenhouse

The greenhouse is located on the second floor of the Life Science Building. Under the Tender Loving Care of Bruce Fortman, endless varieties of geraniums, lettuce, tomatoes, and green plants seem to flourish. After two or three weeks of unending snowfall, the brightness of the greenhouse is a welcome change!

H

Health Center

The Health Center, which is located in the lower level of the Student Center, is the place where one goes to borrow crutches or ace bandages for intramural or varsity injuries. Flu tablets are provided to ailing students and strep throat checks are administered. However, a student doesn't have to be sick or fractured to make a visit to the nurse's office. A health student can come to Mrs. Cottingham to tip the scale or for a routine blood pressure check.

I

Intramurals

Perhaps the varsity competitions aren't the most dangerous sports on campus; intramurals are by far more injurious. The players are often former high school jocks, whose main idea is "get in there and KILL!" Whether because of tensions from school or over enthusiasm, every try is 100% effort, and crutches become a common sight on campus.

J

Janitors

Imagine what York College would look like if no one swept the floors, washed the windows or emptied the trash: unbelievable! It takes a lot of elbow grease and ingenuity to keep buildings this size clean and intact. Behind-the-scenes cooperation by dedicated workers is what really keeps York College together.

K

Karate

One of the many interest groups offered at YCP is the Tae Kwon Do Club. Both men and women participate in this organization, whose main function is to provide the opportunity to develop the individual's skills in Karate. During Physical Fitness Week the group provided a demonstration for the public.

Labs

Labs can make total strangers become dear friends or sworn enemies. "Hurry up! I'm going home today." "Hey watch that acid! Oh, well, I didn't like that shirt anyway." "What's the temperature, 18?" "No, it's 11." "Are you sure?" "It works out, doesn't it?" "I believe it is 11, come to think about it!"

Lane

On September 23, at 7:00 PM, Mark Lane spoke on the topic, "Who Killed Kennedy?" Lane, noted critic of the Warren Report, spoke before a capacity crowd for two hours, destroying the commission and its report. Lecturers, other than Lane, who have spoken at YCP this year have included Max Rafferty, Bob Gurland, and Perry Gilbert.

Lectures

Lectures are always too long and too dull. On a rainy Monday with a Prof's monotone, somebody's going to fall asleep. Then the rest of the class can watch the guy keep from nodding out of his chair. It's worse when you have a guest lecturer who never gets to the point. Soon, your only desire is to escape. "Sure, sure, that's the right equation, but who cares?"

Library

Library: Annals, abstracts, journals, novels, BIBLIOTECA ARCHITECTURA, books in print, everything. The library is a storehouse for energies and a sweatbox for those attempting to write a term paper which is due the following day. The York College library is special in that it is a depository for government documents, which prove very helpful in special research projects. Its newly remodeled periodical room and a new A.V. department also provide the upmost assistance. This year marked the opening of a rare books and special collections room which can be used by the students to display rare items or view those displayed by others.

Mail

"Why is the other guy on my floor so popular? He's got twenty letters to my one! I think he's writing to himself." Getting mail can cheer up the day, and not getting it for weeks can make you want to eat worms. Ads would even be welcome at times, but the BIG TWO are packages and love letters. In most people's hearts the latter comes first, but a box ranks close behind. "Care packages" from home make the receiver envied by everyone back at the dorm.

Music

Walk down any hallway in the dorms and you notice music. Sneaking out from under the doors or blasting from open doorways, the music is as varied as the equipment. Often times, the blare of stereos, or WVYC's music can be heard wafting its way down to the diners in the cafeteria.

Music is everywhere: omnipresent in the Student Center, in the dorms and even in the chem labs. Lounging in and among the cushions, sitting and lying on the floor, music buffs absorb the vibrations of what to some is cosmic truth, and to others, drivel; but then there's no accounting for taste.

N

Newspaper

Innovation keynotes this year for The Spartan Press. The beginning of the academic year saw the Spartan preparing for a campaign geared to the diversification of publishing services emanating from the student press. Under the new organizational name, The Spartan Press, publishing services were extended to include a forty page bi-monthly magazine entitled "The Spectrum," and a special events publication entitled "Special Supplement." The purpose behind this much needed diversification was to add flexibility to the already existing student publishing service, the college newspaper. We look toward the future development of this association of publishing service as one great promise for the students of YCP.

Night

Something in the night makes you want to go out into it. Because of this, students waste many evenings avoiding their books with the vague intention of "starting to study in five more minutes." Some have their evenings preplanned. Over 1,000 students attend night school at YCP. The city offers its own distractions. Who could turn down an evening at Murph's or the Junction? There's always the Mall or the latest movie. If you're still undecided, stay at home and join in the latest floor party!

O

Office

Office hours are posted on a door opened to expose a professor barely visible behind stacks of papers, books, and paraphernalia. York College is fortunate to have dedicated personnel willing to lend assistance during hours other than scheduled class time. The Prof will offer suggestions, answer questions, and provide the student with information pertaining to his class. The office hours tend to take a student into a more relaxed situation, where he (the student) can confer with the professor on a one-to-one basis.

P

Pool

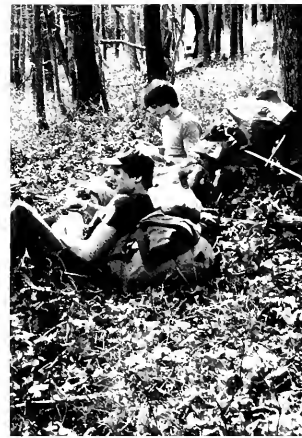

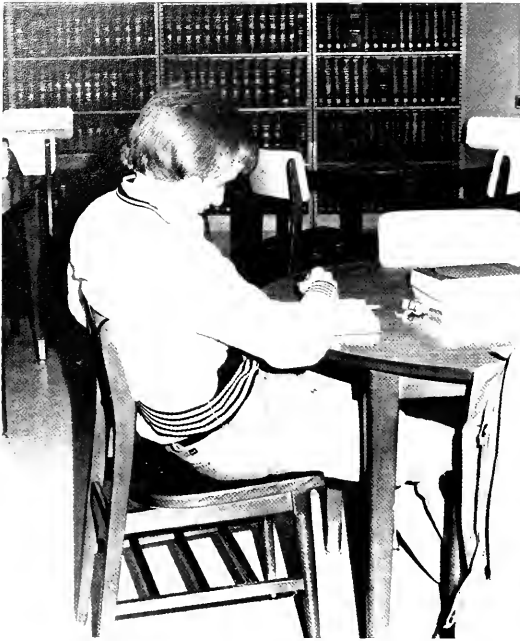

The York College pool is located on the lower level of the gymnasium complex. Swimming enthusiasts can find the pool open from 7-9 PM during the week and from 2-4 PM on the weekends. Faculty members have private use of the pool from 12-1 PM daily. Those students who choose to elect swimming as a class, find it as a refreshing change, especially at 8:30 in the morning. The ultimate questions, however, does exist — "Can Coach Massa swim?" — Do as I say, not as I do!

President

This year Dr. Robert V. Iosue became the second president of York College of Pennsylvania. Besides assuming the numerous duties involved with presiding over the college, Dr. Iosue added his own finishing touches to his occupation. On Tuesday and Thursday mornings this year, Dr. Iosue arrived on campus, doffed his suitcoat and got to work — as a teacher of finite mathematics. The new College president, whose ten years of higher education culminated with a Ph.D. in mathematics, taught the course to "stay in touch with the students and the classroom situation on a teaching level."

Pub

The Dutchman's Pub, on the lower level of the Student Center, is the commuter's cafeteria. The lines between 12 noon and 1 PM far exceed the havoc of finding a parking place in the morning. By the time you finally get served you realize that class started ten minutes ago. Aside from food, the Pub offers a chance for students to pick up two courses not mentioned in the catalogue — Card Playing 101 and Music Appreciation 345 (alias Slug the Jukebox). In all this mess, students still have the illusion that the Pub is the place to conquer that last minute studying.

Quizzes

How does it sound to have a math quiz once a week, every week, every semester for what seems to be the rest of your life? Square that and divide by two and you'll have the number of English quizzes in a semester. "Quiz" makes the whole thing sound trivial, until it shows up in your final average. They don't give quizzes in playing pinball do they?

R

Registration

Prior to the beginning of each semester, students become involved in the process of registration. The process consists of a series of stations winding through the hallowed corridors of York Hall. Upon completion of the 50 minute obstacle course, a student may report to the scheduling office to have his class cards checked. The game is over and the only thing left for the player to do is live up the last few days until classes start.

Rock

Directly outside the Pub stands a green (and sometimes red) rock, affectionately named "Old Spart." Tradition has it, that each year upon graduation, senior students sign their name to the rock in white letters. Therefore every year the rock gets a new coat of paint. One could say that the rock is the only thing that Tyler Run hasn't washed away.

ROTC

In what other class can you spend your weekends vacationing in the woods or your early morning hours running up Reservoir Hill? ROTC is offered at York College as a 4, 3, or 2 year program. This year labs were offered in Orienteering and Survival. The Orienteering phase of the program consists of a map, a compass, and fluorescent pink bottles. The Survival end involves you, mountains, a poncho, a sleeping bag, and a lot of luck. Fort Indiantown Gap was the highlight this year, when both classes spent two days learning how to shoot M-16's and how to rappell from 25 and 55 foot towers. This year the cadets organized a drill team which holds weekly practices to prepare for their presentation at the next Dining Out. Like any other college organization, ROTC isn't all work — it's a lot of fun. It provides both a challenge and a sense of accomplishment to those involved. Army ROTC — I did it!

Student Center

Campus life revolves around the Student Center. It is the home of the Student Senate Office, the Student Activities Director's Office, the Nurse, the Horizon, the Spartan Press, the SAM Office, the Vet's Office, the Student Resource Center and the Senior Class Office. Aside from its official duties, the Center provides a place to sleep, eat, watch t.v., shoot pool, play pinball, and still get some studying done.

Studying

Studying is going to sleep after reading one page of chemistry; it's cramming for two days and nights because you partied last week instead of learning those equations. Although everyone has a different method, style, and degree of efficiency, the purpose of studying is still the same: to avoid the shaft and pass the course with a minimal amount of effort.

T

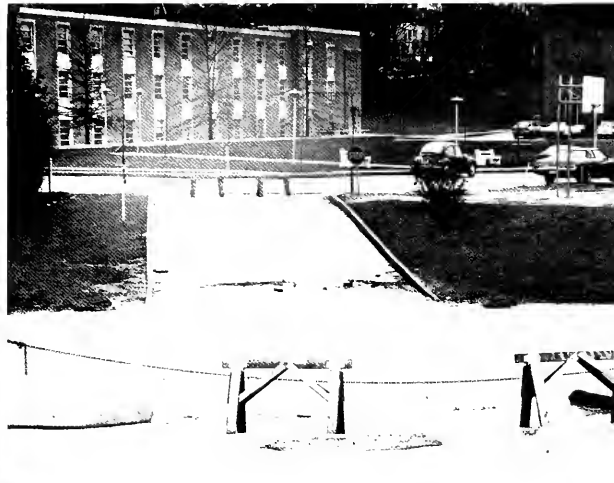

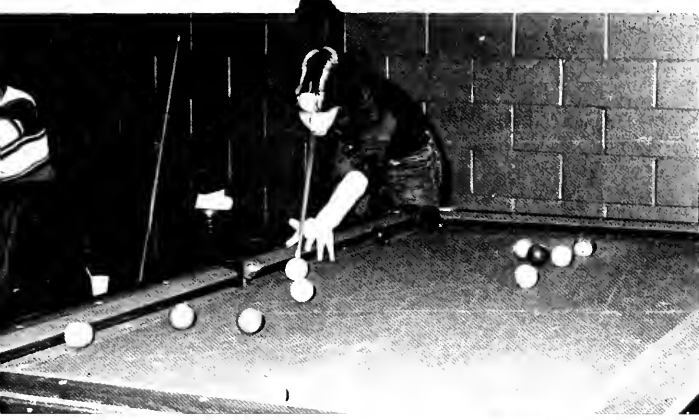

Traffic

York City traffic is the one thing that makes any commuter glad to finally reach his destination — Alive! Any idea of speed is soon forgotten in the maze of red lights, pedestrians, 8:00 and 4:00 work traffic, and detours. To make things more confusing, one-way signs clutter every intersection. Speed on the by-pass is sometimes less than the mile-per-hour rate in the city. Information on a recent bumper sticker — "Pray for me — I travel Route 30 East."

Tyler Run

Tyler Run appears to be a quiet, peaceful stream winding its way through the campus. However, following a rainstorm, the stream becomes a raging river which is forged by only a few brave souls and is eventually barricaded. Although water recreation such as sailing and boating are not offered here, students make do with what they have by inner-tubing their way down the mighty rapids. The Run also provides the perfect dividing line between two tug-of-war teams or perhaps better yet, a place to just sit by and relax.

U

Upperclassmen

An upperclassman is the person to turn to, when and if directions are needed on the freshman's first day of school. For specific help of a different kind, it's the know-it-all sophomore who can render assistance by analyzing your kid brother, after the sophomore has completed one year of Intro to Psychology. The junior student provides the happy medium between the sophomore syndrome and senior-itis. Senior-itis is a disease possessed by the small sector of students who continuously walk around campus with smiles on their faces, for they know that it's only a short time until it's all over! Meanwhile, the freshman is still roaming the campus in the wrong direction.

V

Vending Machines

Eating is the battle to get a large helping of something good at a cheap price. If the cafeteria doesn't live up to your expectations and the Pub lines are too long — the last resort is York Hall's vending machines. For a few coins one can purchase a nutritional meal of coke, gum, and a danish. This can be eaten on the run to or even during the next class.

Volleyball

This year, under Coach Bob Dagle, the girl's volleyball team in its premiere season won the Pen Mar Championship and placed third in regional finals. With a record of 12 wins and 0 losses, the Varsity scored a total of 453 points, far surpassing the opposition's total of 197. Never in YCP history has any other intercollegiate athletic team remained unbeaten throughout its debut season. The team was composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores, and with all but two girls returning, there exists a strong foundation for future championships.

W

Weather

This year York's weather is as erratic as a coffee percolator. One day you're in short sleeves; the next, in a heavy coat or under an umbrella. It changes at precisely the wrong time. Sudden rain storms appear, only when class is a must, causing puddles to become knee-deep. People soon get tired of frostbite and sogginess: sunny spring days are greeted with exhilaration, cutting class, and a lot of bare skin, thus improving the scenery 100%.

Weightlifting

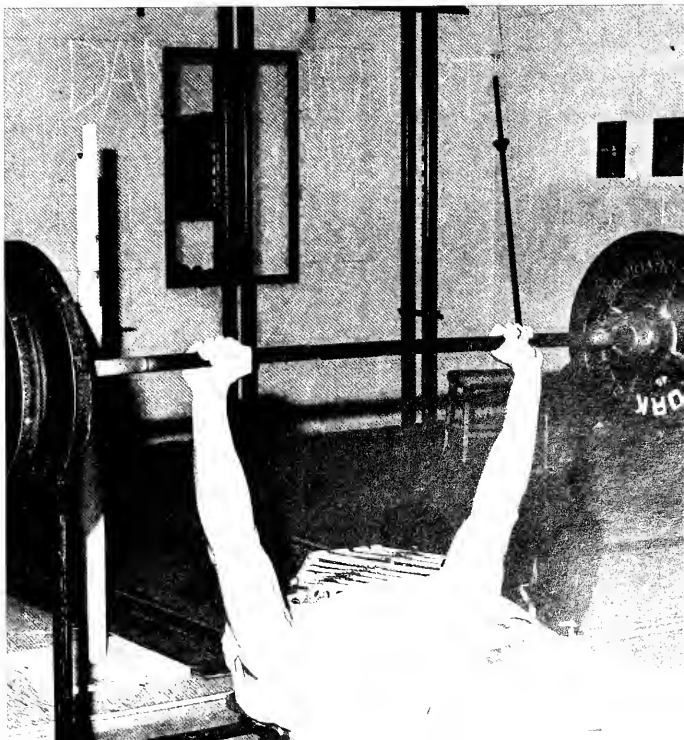

For those who wish to lift weights as a form of exercise, York College provides the weightlifting room. From its location on the lower level of Wolf Gym, emerge some of the most beautiful bodies on campus.

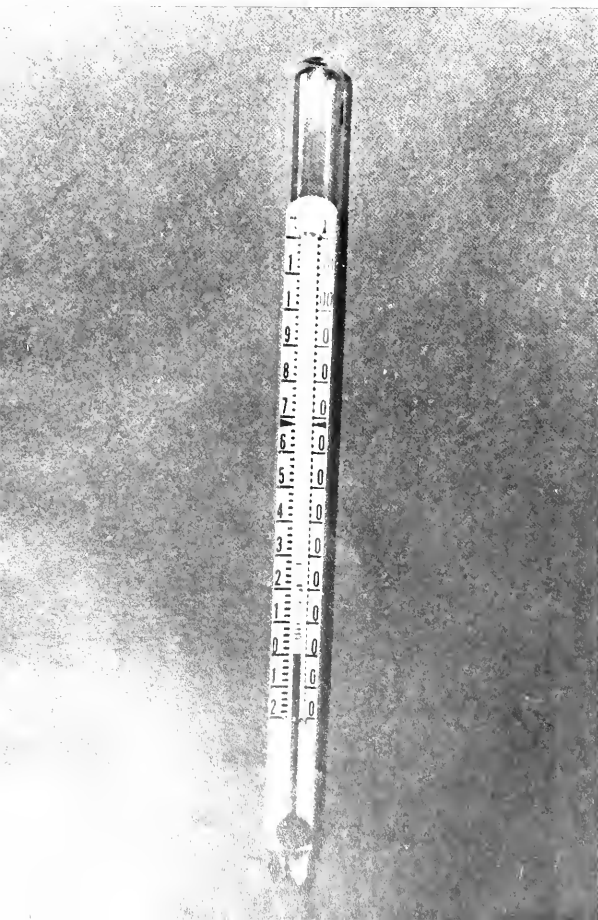

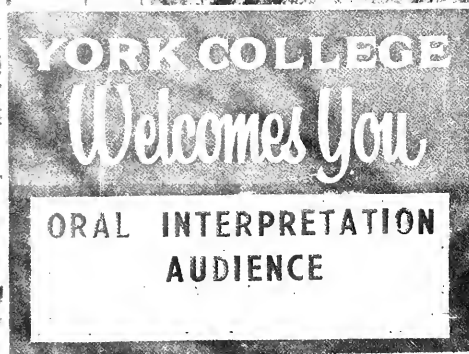

X

X-ray

"That's right. Place your ankle flat against the plate so we can get a good take the first time. No, twist it around a little more. Now, bend your toes up. It won't hurt for long . . . Why? To see if it's broken, of course."

Y

York College

York College of Pennsylvania, located in historic and picturesque York, Pennsylvania, is a fully-accredited, co-educational college granting baccalaureate degrees in 28 majors and associate degrees in 27 areas. Its location, at the center of the East's largest population center, taking in such cities as New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, makes cultural, recreational and professional opportunities unlimited. The College's history goes back to a classical school founded in the Revolutionary Period when York served as the U.S. capital (September, 1777 to June 1778). The College has a wide Summer and Evening program and is affiliated with York Country Day School, a private primary-secondary school. Extension programs are offered in Hanover, PA. The College's modern 60-acre campus, a former golf course, is on Country Club Road, York, PA. 17405, two miles south of York's Continental Square. A full schedule of concerts lectures, art exhibits and other cultural events is scheduled each year for students and members of the community. About 1750 full-time and 1350 part-time students are enrolled. Strong support from local industry and other benefactors makes low tuition possible. York College — a very wise decision.

Z

Zero

Zero is the average of that pop test grade, plus the number of dates last month, plus the balance in the checking account. It's also the temperature at YCP during February. Zeroes are like holes in your socks; they're round, and show up when you hate them most.

Zoning

On October 26, Jack Kay, director of community development, spoke in Buchel Lounge to students residing in off-campus housing about the city-ordinance concerning zoning. Even though the students fought against the ordinance it was passed in December.

Dr. and Mrs. Miller's Farewell Reception

York College of Pennsylvania issued more than 3,000 invitations to a Farewell Reception honoring its retiring president and his wife on Sunday, August 22.

The reception was open to all the friends of the College and was held in Buechel Lounge and the Johnson Dining Room in the Student Center Building.

Highlight of the day's activities was the naming of the College Administration Building for Dr. Ray A. Miller, president of the College for 18 years, and the naming of the Art Gallery for the president's wife, Cora, long-active in the community and on-campus.

The College faculty wives group hosted the reception with Mr. and Mrs. Wolf and John C. Schmidt, board vice president, and his wife.

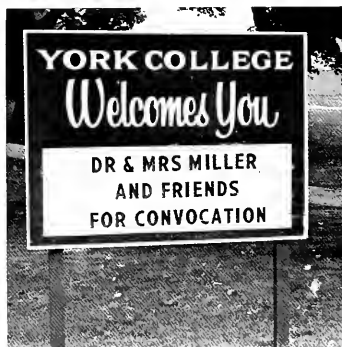

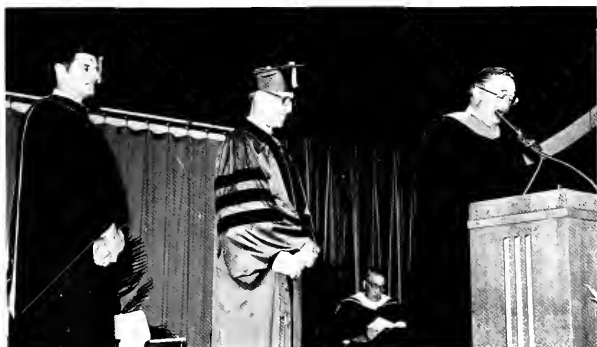

President's Convocation

A formal convocation to confer upon former York College of Pennsylvania President Dr. Ray A. Miller an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree was held Thursday, October 7.

The public was invited to the event recognizing Dr. and Mrs. Miller for their 18 years of service to the College.

YCP President Dr. Robert V. Iosue awarded the Honorary degree to Dr. Miller with the reading of the citation by Board of Trustees President Charles S. Wolf.

Reflection of the Miller administration were presented by Dr. Melvin Campbell, Board president from 1949-1961; Thomas Prebula, Senior Class president; Dr. Benjamin Root, Board president from 1961-1971; Mrs. J. Kenneth Stallman, former Board member and charter member of the YCP's Women's Auxiliary; Dr. Van R. Baker, president of the Academic Senate; Mrs. Margo Arwood, head librarian and faculty member since 1956; and Dean Morbeck, president of the YCP alumni Association.

Dr. Iosue's Inauguration

Keith Spalding, president of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, served as guest speaker representing the higher education community at the candlelight inauguration of Dr. Robert V. Iosue, president of York College of Pennsylvania, Thursday, November 18, 1976.

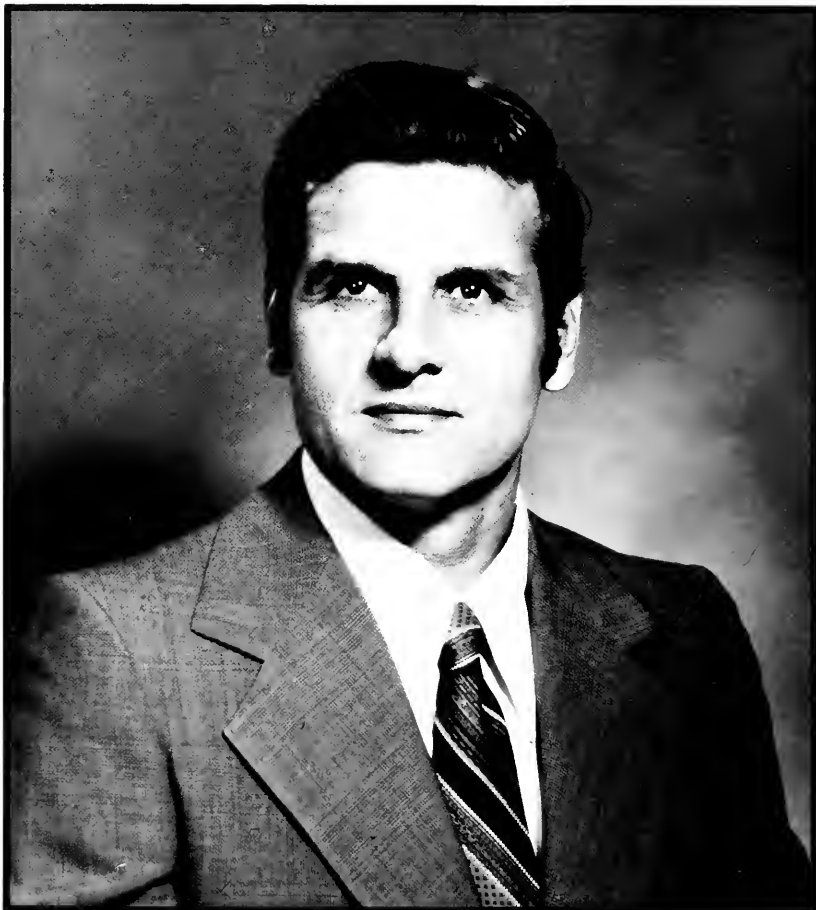

The candlelight program opened with a procession followed by the invocation given by the Rev. H. G. Knight, pastor of Bethlehem Baptist Church, York, and assistant professor of English at YCP. Charles S. Wolf, president of the YCP Board of Trustees, offered the welcome.

Greetings to the new YCP president were conveyed by Congressman William F. Gosling, a representative of the Pennsylvania Department of Education, York County Commissioner Robert Bowers, York Mayor John D. Krout, YCP Faculty Senate President Dr. Van R. Baker, Alumni Association President Dean Norbeck and Student Senate President Rebecca Ogden.

Dr. Iosue delivered his inaugural address and the Rev. Dr. Martin Hopkins, pastor of Ashbury United Methodist Church, York, gave the benediction with the recessional closing the program.

Sports

Soccer

Coach Jack Klingaman led a strong York soccer squad to a 6-4-2 season. Seniors John Hackman and Jeff Kemper led the team with their overall skill and leadership. The Spartan squad looks forward to a successful 1977 season with many starters returning.

Women's Field Hockey

The 1976 season proved to be a very successful one for the young Spartanette team. The team finished the season with a 7-3-1 overall record. Within the Pen-Mar Conference they posted a 5-2-1 record which placed them in a tie for second place with Elizabethtown. In the 3rd season for the J.V. squad they posted a 5-2-2 record. Coach Reid anticipates a good 1977 season due to many returning varsity players and a strong J.V. squad.

Women's Volleyball

The York College Women's Volleyball Team became the first undefeated team in York College History. The odds were against them due to being a first year team and having a coach and players inexperienced in inter-collegiate play. Yet through long and hard practices and great coaching by Bob Dagle the team was led to an undisputed 12-0 season and the Penn Mar Conference Championship. This achievement has made everyone take a second look at a probable national championship team next season.

Volleyball Team Advances to Regionals

Earning their Conference Championship qualified the Women's Volleyball Team for the Regional Tournament at Masfield State College. This young team found itself surrounded by a number of strong established teams on the Eastern Seaboard.

In the first round of the tournament, the girls defeated Princeton, a prominent Ivy League School. From there they went to the quarter-finals against M.I.T. the next morning. M.I.T. was a precised team who handed York their first defeat. With the loss, the Spartanettes had to battle U.M.B.C. York came out victorious and received third place honors.

But even though their chance for a national title eluded them this year, they have already set a goal for themselves next year — A National Title.

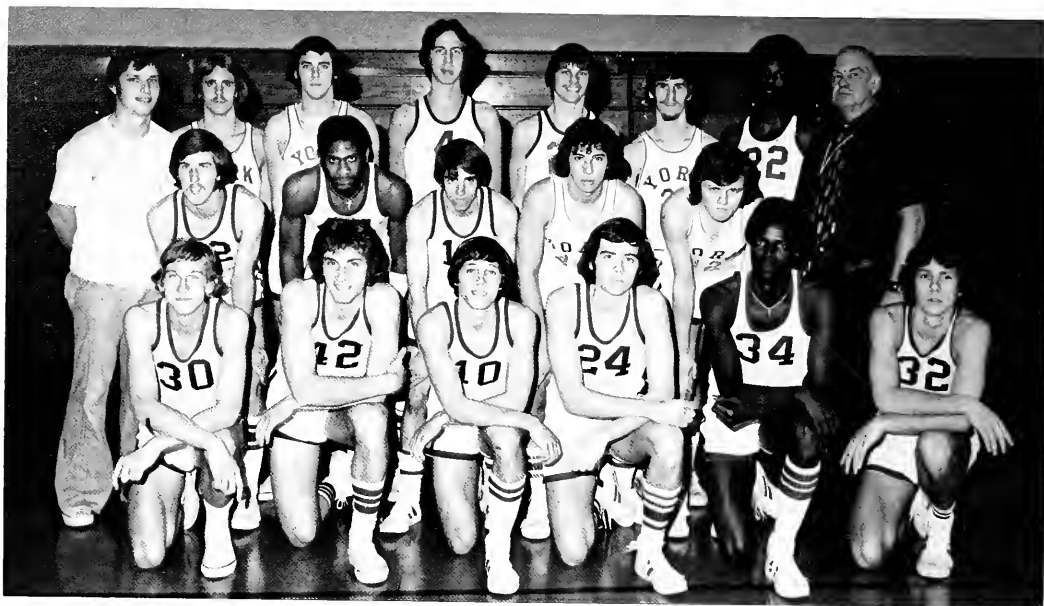

Cross Country

Senior Courtland Howard and freshman Greg Colas led the York College Cross Country team to their best running season in the school's history. Accompanying their outstanding record of 17-3, the squad placed third out of a fourteen team invitational meet at Lebanon Valley. Throughout the 20 meet season, YCP scored six shut-outs with the perfect score of 15. The York home course is one which has become widely known in collegiate runner circles as an exceptionally demanding test of running strength, endurance, and judgement.

Men's Basketball

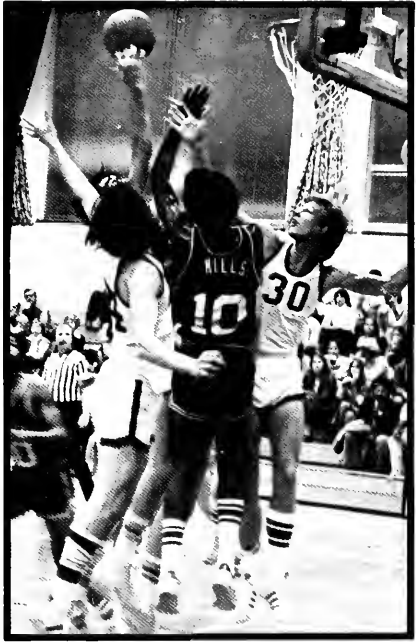

The basketball team had a very reputable 1976-1977 season, finishing with a record of 11-14. This season's schedule included only top level competition. The scoring margins were very slim in many of the games. York scored impressive wins over Millersville and Messiah. A very significant individual record was established by junior forward Scott Bortner. Scott was the squad's leader in almost all types of play. He scored 459 points for the season, setting a new school record. Overall it was a very productive season for the Spartan Basketball team.

Wrestling

The Spartan wrestling team completed its eighth consecutive winning season with a 13-4-1 dual meet record. They won the team championship in the 1976 York College Open, finished 6th out of 24 teams at the Millersville Belles Open and were runners-up at the Washington and Lee Invitational. Heavyweight Skip Hubler had the best overall record (24-4-1), and Sophomore Mark Miller had the most pins with 6.

Spirit Soars at Y.C.P.

Here at York College the Cheerleaders not only lead or encourage spectators at the athletic events to show enthusiasm, but they can be counted on by the team for shouts of approval, pep, and spirit. Leading the hoo-rah's of the squad was captain Debbie Glacken. Advisor Mrs. Joyce Hatch directed the cheerleaders into another fun and exciting season. Other members of the squad included Mary Beth Shea, Annabella Riccio, Cindy Levandowski, Anita Sorice, Cindy Klick, Diane Wiest, Diane Leitzel, Kathy Petras, and Sue Naftzger.

Women's Basketball

As a young team with only two returning lettermen, this season was a difficult and frustrating one. The high point of the season was an overtime victory over Gettysburg College. Although this year's record of 5-10 does not show the potential of the girl's play, next year hopes to be better due to many returning players.

Swimming and Diving

Baseball

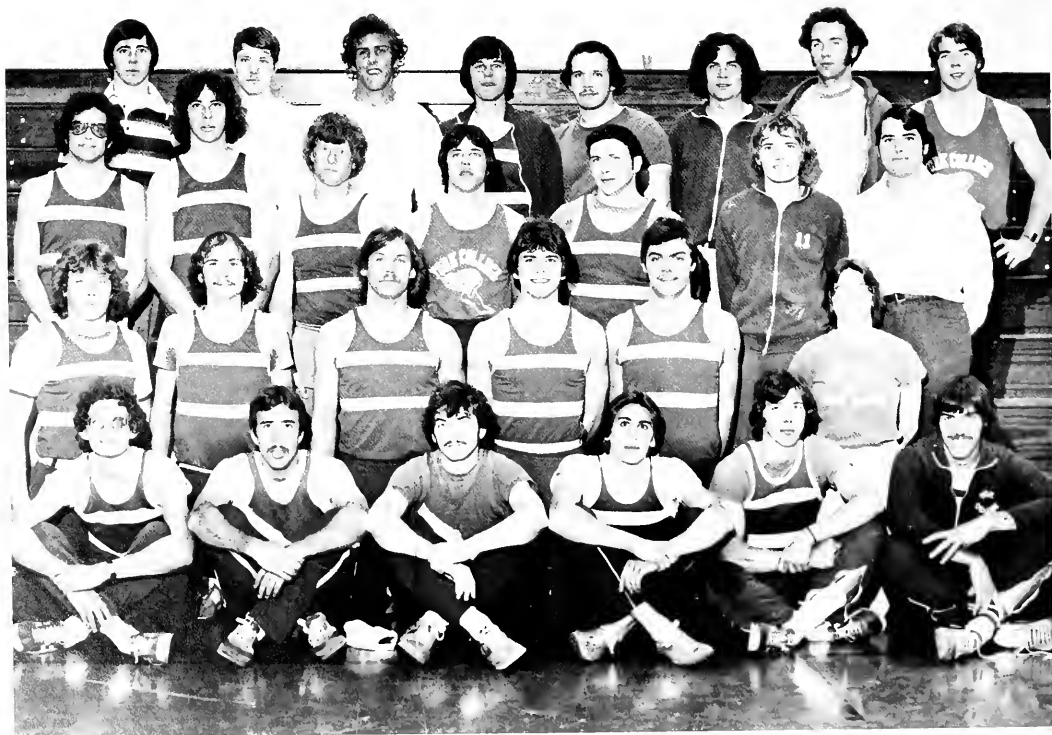

Tennis

Track and Field

The 1977 York College track and field team completed its most successful season since 1973 with a 6-5 record. The YCP trackmen broke 10 team records this season. The success of this season's team is not only reflected in the dual meet results but in the individual performances as well. Senior Courtland Howard, named 'most valuable track and field performer,' became the first York College trackman to qualify for participation in the NCAA Division III Track and Field Championship. Senior Steve Gunzenhauser was named recipient of the 'Coach's Award,' for his contribution to team effort.

Horizon 1977

Now this is not the end. It is not even the beginning of the end. But it is, perhaps, the end of the beginning.

— Churchill
